DEMS STAND BY PROMISE

SENATE PASSES THE TARIFF BILL

Long Struggle Ends When Measure Is Adopted 44 to 37—Bill Now Goes to Conference.

LaFollette and Poindexter Vote With the Democrats, While the Two Louisiana Senators Fail to Stand by the Caucus Pledge—B-I Provides For Free Wool, Free Hides and Free Sugar.

Washington, Sept. 10.—By a vote of 44 to 37, the senate passed the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill, which carries all the features for which the president has contended—free meats, free wool, free sugar and reduced duties on the necessities of life. The measure now goes to conference between the two houses, and 10 days, it is expected, will see final action on this important measure, which already has dragged itself along for five months.

The vote in the senate was big with political possibilities. Two Republicans, LaFollette of Wisconsin and Poindexter of Washington, voted for the Democratic bill. Only two Democrats, Thornton and Randall of Louisiana, failed to stand by the caucus pledge. They voted with most of the Republicans against the measure.

Many Republicans contended that by this action LaFollette had removed himself from the Republican party and had forfeited any chance he may have had for nomination for the presidency. Nobody was certain what LaFollette's plans are. Some Republicans believed his action meant that he is preparing to lead an independent fight of his own, while others were confident that he was getting ready to jump into the Democratic fold. His isolation was still further emphasized by a break between him and Senator Cummins, one of the Republican progressives.

The Democratic leaders obtained a larger majority for the bill than they had expected. This was due not only to the votes of LaFollette and Poindexter, but to the absence of three of the Republicans, two of whom, Senator Burton of Ohio and Senator Gronna of North Dakota, released their Democratic faith on the final vote in order that they might have the satisfaction of recording themselves in favor of the party measure. The seven senators named to represent the senate on the conference committee of the two houses that will perfect the bill were as follows: Chairman Simmons and Senators Stone, Williams and Johnson, Democrats, and Senators Penrose, Lodge and LaFollette, Republicans.

The last day given to the tariff bill in the senate was consumed mostly by speeches. Senators LaFollette and Cummins made the principal speeches, and one of the diverting incidents of the debate was an open manifestation on the part of Mr. LaFollette of his ill feeling toward the senator from Iowa, which dates back to the last presidential campaign.

Little Willie in Eruption Again
[Ft. Recovery Tribune.]

Jimmy Carlin, who helped to run his father's prohibition paper (except when the Board of Commissioners meet—then it is democratic) is the hardest candidate to please in the community. Not satisfied with merely defeating a democratic rival in a recent primary for village clerk, he jumps onto the vanquished one with spiked shoes, calls him an unmitigated liar, a coal thief, a grafter and other hard names. We would suggest that the Democratic brethren in Celina dwell together in more harmony, and not snarl like dogs fighting over a bone. However, it is hard to overcome nature.

Notwithstanding Fact We Can't Crowd Into 4,000 Class.

W. E. Reynolds who was appointed by Mayor Miller a couple of weeks ago, to take a census of the village, finished up the field work and began transcribing the town's population, Wednesday, for Council's acceptance, at their adjourned meeting next Monday night.

Mr. Reynolds' unofficial count after he had finished Wednesday morning fixed the population at 3,813, something over three hundred more than in 1910. He has a few pick-ups to get and it is probable that it may reach 3,850.

The ward division is as follows:

1st ward	733
2nd ward	713
3rd ward	1026
4th ward	1341
Total	3813

At Harrieta, Mich., the Harrieta private bank, owned by C. W. Barry, was robbed by yeggmen, who secured $3,500 in currency.

TRUSTEES NOT BUYERS OF COAL

Or Distributors for the Township, Which Falls to Lot of the Board of Education.

A blunder crept into a question propounded in these columns last week, when we asked if Township Clerk Winter had recently filled his coal bin from coal purchased by the Township Trustees. We stand corrected.

The Trustees have nothing to do with the purchase of coal, which is entirely in the hands of Township Board of Education.

Curious enough, many township taxpayers want to know something of this much talked of coal deal and several others in which they are vitally interested, in which Township Clerk Winter figures, and through The Democrat's error quite naturally went after Trustees Lincoln and Smith as participants or involved by carelessness in their trust. We are glad to place them right before their constituents, as we would any person wrongfully accused, directly or indirectly, or cast under suspicious by misunderstood actions or motives.

Last fall the Township Board of Education purchased a car load of coal for the schools of the township. This year they do the same. In both instances the coal bin of Clerk Winter was filled up, and as we get it, several wagons were weighed off on the Model Milling Co. scales and disposed of in this city.

Now, is it a fact that the Township Board of Education, through Mr. Winter, the clerk of the board, sold several parties in this city enough coal to supply them through the winter, from the coal purchased at the expense of the taxpayers of the township, and which should have found its way into the district school coal bins?

Some tax-payers, who seem to be wise beyond the usual run, would also like to know if Township Clerk Winter, some five or six years ago, received a wee bit on the side for stone furnished the township by a foreign stone company?

John M. Winter, who was defeated at the recent primary by Clerk Carlin for the village clerkship, admitted last Saturday what The Democrat said was true, when it stated he had asked Presiding Judge Zender of the Second Ward for a square deal in that precinct voting place, "something he did not get two years ago."

The assertion was, of course, preposterous and contemptible, but it seems to become Mr. Winter. Does any one believe Wm. J. Macchman, Eli Bryson (now in his grave), Henry Weisman, J. W. Riley, Frank Zender and W. N. Monroe would stoop so low as to meddle in a fight for the little corporation office? We do not think so. They were the election officers Mr. Winter accuses of not giving him a square deal.

SIDNEY TRACK RECORD BROKEN

By Roop Dillard, Mercer County Horse, Eucured Out of Honors at State Fair Races.

Irvin Hole's famous pacer, Roop Dillard, was given such a raw deal at the State Fair last week that he was forced out of the 2:10 pacing event on Thursday. Charley had driven Roop into first place in the first and second heats, without any undue effort, when the starter let the field get away ahead of Roop in the third heat. A similar occurrence in the fourth heat and he was given the flag, despite the fact that neither starter nor distance man had a flag. The Big State Fair crowd was with the Mercer county horse and hooted the rotten decisions.

Roop Dillard, the bay stallion owned by Irvin Hole, of Montezuma, won first money in a free-for-all pace at the Sidney fair Wednesday, and broke the track record, going the mile in the third heat in 2:08 1-4. Roop won in straight heats.

LANDFAIR'S SALOON SCENE OF DRUNKEN ROW SAT-URDAY NIGHT

Bert McCristy and Frank Davis were arrested by Marshal Humphrey and Night Policeman Nicholas last Saturday night on a charge of assault. Both pleaded guilty when arraigned before Mayor Miller and were each fined $5 and costs. An affidavit was also filed against Lou Chaney on a similar charge, but he had skipped out.

The arrests grew out of a drunken scrape in the Frank Landfair saloon, West Fayette street. McCristy, without provocation, it seems, struck a Belgian sabbat tender. The latter knocked McCristy down and a fight ensued, in which the foreigner was struck on the head with a beer bottle. His head was severely cut.

CHATTANOOGA TO BE ON THE MAP

Public Spirited Citizens Get Together and Decide on Having Lecture Course.

W. R. Smith, Secretary of Chattanooga Lyceum Club.

The Savanue Quartet will open the lyceum course to be held in the E. V. Church at Chattanooga, Ohio, commencing October 9, and covering four entertainments. Special effort has been made to secure the ablest talent out of a long list of the most popular platform entertainers that are appearing before the American public this day.

We feel no little pride in saying we have secured the program that appeals to the lovers of clean, educating entertainment. The expense of this course has been secured by a few public-spirited citizens, who are assisting financially, Deputy Sheriff Betz is getting together a strong aggregation to play in this city for the remainder of the season. Manager Betz expects to open up here a week from Sunday, the 21st, with the fast Versailes bunch. His team will line up something as follows: McComb, catcher; Davis, Fredericks and G. Myers, pitchers; Betz and J. Myers, first base; Betzel, of the Bristol, Tenn., Appala-chian league team, second base; Rehling, of Dayton, third base; Cook, of the St. Paul American Association team, short stop; Ellis, right field; Gray, of the Canton Central League team, center field; C. Myers, left field. With two exceptions this makes an all home team and one of the heaviest bunch of hitters ever gotten together in a semi-professional company. Watch for the opening game.

Last Friday the Celina Y. M. B. C. team, strengthened by a couple of new men, pulled off a close and exciting game with the traveling Hawaiian team suffering defeat in the ninth inning. The locals put up a better game than the visitors, but with the exception of the sixth inning were unable to bungle at the right moments. Davis, the young Celina twirler, who was on the mound for the Y.M.B.C. team, pitched a nice game, pulling out of difficult holes. A bone-head play by G. Myers and several bad errors, however, caused him to loose the game, which should have been easily won. Score:

OBJECTIONS ARE WITHDRAWN
And Fight for Mayoralty Honors at Rockford Will Go Merrily On.

Mayor W. F. Penn, of Rockford, last Tuesday filed a protest with Clerk Gilberg of the Deputy State Supervisors of Elections against the petition of Justice E. E. Jackson, of Rockford, candidate against Penn for the Mayoralty at Rockford.

The protest alleged that Jackson's petition was faulty, in that it did not contain the required number of signatures and was not filed within the sixty-day limit fixed by law. He also maintained that Jackson was not eligible to hold the office, since he is now serving as Justice of the Peace of Dublin township.

Mayor Penn sort of concedes Jackson's election in the latter statement, and we presume the justice had better resign, so may not lose the office on an alleged technicality.

Attorney Jackson's petition was filed with Clerk Gilberg on September 4 and contained more than the required twenty-five signatures of qualified electors.

Mayor Penn yesterday afternoon withdrew his objections, and Jackson will stay in the race.

CURRENCY MEASURE REPORTED TO NATIONAL HOUSE

Washington, Sept. 10.—The currency bill is before the house. It was reported by Chairman Glass, who presented a report signed by all the Democratic members of the house banking and currency committee, in which it was claimed that the fundamental features of the bill are:

The creation of a joint mechanism for the extension of credit to banks which possess sound assets and which desire to liquidate them to meet legitimate industrial, commercial and agricultural demands; the ultimate retirement of the present bond-secured currency with the substitution thereof of a more flexible medium of exchange and provision for the extension of American banking facilities for foreign countries.

Coincident with the presentation of this report, a report was presented on behalf of the Republican members of the committee, condemning three of the leading features of the bill. The minority members claimed that the powers conferred by the bill upon the federal reserve board were too great and there was extreme danger that the board would be used for corrupt partisan purposes.

The majority report called attention to the existing stringency and shortage of capital, fixed and floating, and the need for legislation which will facilitate commercial loans by banks. The inadequacy of the Aldrich-Vreeland act, now in force, but which has been inoperative insofar as its note issue provision is concerned, is summed up by Mr. Glass in the statement that "it is a weak makeshift, soon to expire."

The first High School game of the fall season will be pulled off at Mercelina Park this afternoon, when the local club, which organized last week, Frank Petrie as manager, will cross bats with the St. Marys High School. The local club have a good line-up and will endeavor to trim the Saintly boys in good fashion. Frank says since he turned the Reds over to Tinker this is absolutely the best and fastest team he has managed.

Big Jack Rowan, of the Dayton Central league, who had a big hit here last fall when he pitched a number of games for the local club, has been drafted by the Cincinnati Reds and reported for duty to Manager Tinker Wednesday. The host of Celina friends of the big and jovial Jack are pleased to hear of his club and hope to see him make good on the National mound.

Celina base ball fans were permitted to witness the first real game of the season on the local diamond, but it will not be the last, for a team is in the making that will again, as last fall, put Celina back in the eyes of base balldom.

In the sixth inning, Cushie and Desha, the visitors left and center fielders ran together in an attempt to get a long fly from Vordenfeld's bat. As a result Cushie was carried from the field with an ugly gash above his left eye. Dr. Ayers who was on the field dressed the wound.

The first ball thrown by young Davis, the Celina twirler, last Friday, struck Avoca, the visitors second baseman in the head, laying him out. Davis, while a hit answered by the slip, got down to business after the accident and did not pass another man.

Mission Festival Great Success

A large and attentive audience attended the Lutheran Mission festival held at the Fair ground last Sunday. Visitors from Dayton, Willow Dell, Coldwater and Chattanooga helped swell the crowd of the congregations from this city and Hopewell. The morning services were held in German and the afternoon program in English. The principal speakers were Revs. Peeger and Brobst. A big dinner was prepared by the ladies and served in the dining hall during the noon recess hour. Supper was also served to a number who remained for a social gathering, in the evening.

DROUTH BROKEN

Long-looked for General Rain Commenced to Fall Over Country About Midnight.

A steadily general rain began falling shortly before midnight last night in this vicinity, and for three hours or more rain fell in good gobs. It will no doubt brighten the fields, and if followed by a fair rain in a few days, will mean some fair fall pastures.

HONORS HEAPED ON FORMER CELINA MAN

At a Gathering of Political Associates at Home of Famous Duckworth Club.

[Cincinnati Enquirer, Sept. 8.]

Herman, the magician, never created a greater illusion in his long career on the stage than did those amateur prestidigitators, Stephen W. McGrath, Wm. J. Leonard and Eugene H. Mesch, at the Duckworth Democratic Club last night, when by a simple twist of the wrist they made the State Liquor License Commission and the Hamilton County Liquor License Commission seemingly sitting in joint session. There they were—J. H. Secrist, Charles L. Allen and Byron M. Clendenning, of the State Board, and William Marschhausen and Rogers Wright, of the County Board, all sitting in a row and nothing lacking but the presence of Secretary Robert S. Hayes to get down to "brass tacks" and transact business.

The illusion lasted until the hundreds of members pinched themselves, woke up and realized that the Commissioners were there to assist them in formally congratulating Pres't Clendenning, of the club, on his recent appointment as member of the State Board. Commissioner Secrist was delayed in Columbus beyond the hour he expected to leave there, and Chairman McGrath and Messrs. Leonard and Mesch did not start things going until after he arrived at the club-house.

Chairman McGrath opened the meeting by stating that the club thought it entirely proper that it should show its appreciation of the honor conferred on its President by tendering him a public reception.

After a ringing eulogy of Mr. Clendenning as a Democrat of Democrats, as a citizen of whom Cincinnati may well be proud and as a thoroughly capable presiding officer, he reached under the table in front of him and dragged out a handsome traveling bag of walrus skin and a toilet case. These he presented to President Clendenning in a few happily worded sentences, in which he expressed the hope that he would find them "handy" when traveling about the state discharging the duties of his office.

President Clendenning was equally happy in his response to Chairman McGrath's presentation speech. He told of his association with the old Duckworth Club and how it had been his ambition when elected its President to be instrumental in having it and the Cincinnati Democratic Club merge and fight the battles of Democracy hereafter under one banner. He said that he had expected the club to accept his resignation, tendered after he was appointed a member of the State Board, but that it had not done so he would continue as the head of the organization, though one of the three Vice Presidents would have to preside at meetings hereafter, as he would have to give his entire time to his duties.

Mayor Hunt, who followed President Clendenning complimented the club and the local Democratic organization on Governor Cox having honored both by appointing their fellow member to a position of such responsibility. He characterized the license law as a crowning act of statesmanship in Ohio, in that it put the state in the front ranks with those commonwealths that have once and for all time divorced the liquor question from politics. He said that he personally was delighted with Clendenning's appointment, believing that he had those qualifications that eminently fitted him to make the administration of the new law in all its details a complete success.

The Mayor was given a warm welcome when he arose to speak, and so long continued was the hand-clapping that he had to raise his hands several times to impose silence.

Commissioners J. H. Secrist and Chas. L. Allen called on in turn for speeches, made a splendid impression with the crowd which cheered them to the echo.

Vice Mayor Simon Johnson and Messrs. Marschhausen and Wright closed the speech-making with remarks that fitted in nicely with the occasion. During the evening refreshments and cigars were circulated and the general good feeling created will make the reception long-to-be remembered event in the club's annals.

DEMOCRATS ON THE JOB

One Good Bunch Succeeds Another in the Conduct of County's Fiscal Affairs.

Next Monday will see the newly elected County Commissioners—Messrs. Evers, Behrens and Brunswick—in-charge of the business affairs of the county.

The change in the Board of Commissioners is scheduled for midnight next Sunday, but it is hardly probable that the three members-elect will be on hand at that time to take over the keys their predecessors, Messrs. Kiser, Heiby and Dillhoff, stand ready to relinquish.

The new board is regarded as a strong one, well thought of by their neighbors who know them for their worth, practical and successful farmers and very conscientious men. Each of the three members—Bernard Evers, of Marion township; Henry Behrens, of Dublin, and ex-Inferior Director Andrew Brunswick, of Granville—are big tax-payers of the county, progressive in their leanings toward public improvements, but will consider the interests of all the people of the county as they would their own. We believe they will meet the most sanguine anticipations of their friends in the work before them.

The retiring board—Isaac N. Kiser, of this city; Fred Heiby, of Recovery township, and Frank Dillhoff, of Marion—merits the approbation of the people of the county for the work performed during their incumbency. Few people realize the volume of work that comes before the board each year and the conflicting interests that must be straightened out and passed upon, a task that demands clear thinking and ripe judgment. It is a trying job, and the retiring officials no doubt feel a sense of relief that the end is in sight, even though they take a pride in the consciousness that they have performed their public service with an eye only to the public welfare, without fear or favor.

Messrs. Kiser and Heiby are no longer boys, but both are comfortably fixed in this world's goods and will probably cut out the more strenuous and active work that has characterized their lives. Mr. Dillhoff is in the prime of life, with a family after Roosevelt's heart, and has some heating yet before him. The Democrat wishes them all success and pleasure in all their future undertakings, and may they live long and enjoy their well-earned laurels. The people of the county will not wish them less.

Bloodhounds Trail Woman

Leo Schneck took his blood hounds to Decatur, Ind., last Friday night to locate Miss Sophia Hinel, an aged insane woman, who had wandered from her home. The trail was almost two days old and this fact coupled with the dusty roads, made the hunt very unsatisfactory. Following, however, the slight clue given by the dogs the woman was located Sunday morning.

THE GRIM REAPER

The remains of Wm. Betz, aged 25 years, who was killed at Nampa, Idaho, August 30, arrived here Sunday morning and were taken to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Lige Miller, Ton-Velle street. Funeral services were held by Rev. Koenig, of the Evangelical church, at the Miller home Tuesday morning, after which the remains were taken to Ft. Recovery for burial.

Young Betz was a fireman on the Idaho Northern railroad, and was killed in a freight wreck on Sunday, August 30, together with the engineer of the locomotive and a brakeman.

The Nampa News in speaking of the accident, says: "The death of Wm. Betz was doubly sad for the fact that he was to be married in a few days to Miss Susan Myers, of Portland. The young lady was notified of the accident and is expected to arrive in Nampa this evening. A brother of Betz, who resides at Portland, was also notified and he will arrive this evening to take charge of the body which will be shipped back to the old home in Celina, Ohio, for burial. Since employed by the Short Line the deceased made his home at Glens Ferry. He was about 25 years of age.

The dead body of Betz which is at the Robinson undertaking parlor, shows that he was horribly mangled. The head and shoulders were badly mutilated. The left side of his face and his neck, arms, legs and back were broken.

Dick Willis, of Montezuma, night clerk at the Ashley Hotel, had his right hand badly lacerated and his fingers dislocated last Sunday evening, when a motorcycle on which he was riding collided with a buggy at the Lake Erie tracks on Main street. The machine which was driven by Herbert Kriemendahl, hit the buggy between the shaft and front wheel. Kriemendahl was not injured.

Randolph Zellers, of Jamestown, was the guest here last Sunday of Ralph Jordan, and accompanied by the latter went to Montezuma Monday to take up their duties as teachers in the Montezuma school. Mr. Zeller is the new principal, while Mr. Jordan is in
